ONE ARCHIVES FOUNDATION ANNOUNCES NEW LGBTQ+ PODCAST PERIODICALLY QUEER

Online Launch Party to Take Place on June 30, 2022

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

Los Angeles, CA (June 16, 2022) —ONE Archives Foundation is thrilled to launch a new podcast project for this year's Pride season – Periodically Queer. The podcast will dive deep into the history and stories around LGBTQ+ print media, periodicals, and organizations. On each episode of Periodically Queer, the ONE Archives Foundation team and their guests will explore the stories behind the page, and discuss topics such as queer community building, finding LGBTQ+ ancestors and more.

“Periodically Queer reminds us that everyone has a power to tell their stories and build a community through whatever media resources that are available to them at their time in history. As members of the LGBTQ+ community, we have a commitment to combat isolation and create a sense of social belonging,” said Umi Hsu, Director of Content Strategy from ONE Archives Foundation. “The stories featured on the podcast will resonate with today’s listeners what the LGBTQ+ community did with magazines and print media in the past, and what we're doing with audio and digital media today.”

Periodically Queer focuses on LGBTQ+ organizations of color with publications circulating in the 1980s, 1990s, and early 2000s. The pilot episodes feature conversations with founding members, editors, and contributors to groundbreaking publications Lavender Godzilla (1988-present, podcast participants: Dino Duazo and John Silva) Homan Magazine (1991-2002, podcast participants: Albert Maghbouleh, Payam Ghassemlou), and COLORLife! (1992-1994, podcast participants: Mariana Romo-Carmona, Lisette Cheng, Sheilah Mabrey, and Vondora Wilson).

Periodically Queer Launch Party will take place on June 30, 2022 at 5pm PT. This online event is free and available to the public. At the online launch party, ONE Archives Foundation team members will sit down with individuals involved in the making of the podcast and offer a preview of future episodes from season one.
